This article has been retracted at the request of the ASRM Publications Committee and Editor in Chief of Fertility and Sterility. The Committee investigated concerns after a reader noticed that the data reported in Table 1 in this article was identical to the data in Table 1 of an earlier 2004 article with overlapping authors (PMID 15237003; Fertil Steril. 2004 Jul;82(1):145-8, <https://doi.org/10.1016/j.fertnstert.2003.11.041>). The corresponding author did not reply to inquiries; however, one of the coauthors did respond and admitted that the study published above was not actually performed. Inquiries were made to the coauthors and their institutions, who did not provide any information to alter or contradict this admission. Therefore, the Committee has determined to retract the article.
